MIS Reports Interface - eLearning

CR2 offers a blended training programme about the Management Information System (MIS) Reports Interface. The programme consists of an introductory eLearning followed by a classroom-based workshop.

The eLearning course introduces participants to the MIS Reports Interface and the concepts involved in MIS reports. The follow-on classroom-based workshop enables participants to practice tasks related to planning MIS reports and creating the SQL required for these reports.

Benefits:

After taking this course, you will understand what the MIS Reports Interface is and how it is used. You will know the process involved in creating an MIS report.

Having trained staff within the bank who understand what the MIS Reports Interface is and how it can be used will result in greater reporting capabilities within the bank, and lower consultancy costs.
